2024 Vehicle Crime Conference

31st July - 1st August, 2024, RACV City Club, 501 Bourke Street, Melbourne

An Invitation to Sponsor

On 31st July and 1st August, 2024, the Australasian Branch of the International Association of Auto Theft Investigators (IAATI) will be hosting its Annual Vehicle Crime Conference in Melbourne.

During the last few years the Branch's activities have been heavily curtailed by COVID. In 2023 we held our first in-person conference since COVID. The event was held in Sydney and was an outstanding success and extremely well attended by both old and new members. Keen to maintain the energy and enthusiasm generated from our last conference, we are hosting our 2024 annual conference in Melbourne.

While we have been unable to secure a free venue, as we did in 2023, we have kept a similar 2-day format with a 2-hour networking session at the end of the first day. Furthermore we have tried extremely hard to keep our costs as low as possible, while still providing a venue that is easily accessible for delegates and functional. We encourage you and your colleagues to join us at what is the only event of its type for people involved in the prevention, detection, investigation and prosecution of all forms of vehicle crimes.

Joining us in Melbourne will be our International IAATI President, Lt. Nathan McGanty from Chesapeake (VA) Police Department and our international keynote speaker, Iain McKinlay. Iain has recently retired from Police Scotland where he served for 27 years and was the Force's specialist stolen vehicle examiner. Iain is also chair of the UK based National Association of Stolen Vehicle Examiners, and is co-author of the current College of Policing National Policing Curriculum Learning Standard on Stolen Vehicle Examination.

Together with a range of police, insurance and industry speakers, this 2024 conference will be full of interesting topics and valuable networking opportunities.

As a non-profit organisation, IAATI relies heavily on the support of sponsors and I invite you to consider partnering with us to help deliver this important event .

As outlined on the following pages we have sponsorship packages ranging from $400 to $2,200 which provide you with a number of positive benefits. Your involvement as a Seminar partner will ensure that those dedicated professionals within both the private and public sectors, obtain current knowledge and are as effective as possible in tackling the widespread vehicle crime problem.

If you would like to discuss any aspects of your company's potential involvement in our 2024 conference, I am based in Western Australia and can be contacted via email: warren@forensicserviceswa.com.au or mobile 0488 326 030. We greatly appreciate any assistance you are able to provide.

Best Regards

Warren Stevenson,
Australasian Branch President,
IAATI

What is IAATI?

The International Association of Auto Theft Investigators (IAATI) is a non-profit organisation formed to provide professional training, education and support to assist professionals involved in the detection, investigation and reduction of vehicle theft. The Association was established in America in 1952 and has in excess of 3,000 members in 71 countries. The Australasian Branch was established in 1993. Membership consists of representatives from police services (investigators, analysts, and forensic staff), insurers, private investigators, vehicle registration authorities, vehicle manufacturers and others with a legitimate interest in vehicle theft investigation, prevention & education. The Australasian Branch conducts an Annual Conference to help members keep abreast of the latest trends, issues, products and initiatives throughout Australasia and the world. The 2024 Vehicle Crime Conference celebrates our 31st anniversary as an Australasian Branch and promises to be of benefit to anybody with an interest in reducing the problem of motor vehicle theft and vehicle crime.

2024 International Speakers

Lieutenant Nathan McGanty, Chesapeake (VA) Police Department.
and
International President, IAATI, 2023/24

President Nathan McGanty is a Lieutenant with the Chesapeake (VA) Police Department as the evening shift Command Duty Officer. His career with Chesapeake Police started in February 2003 where he has served in many roles.

Since attending his first IAATI conference in 2011 he has been a regular and active participant and both his local South East Chapter training events and at the International IAATI conferences. In 2018 he was appointed President of South East IAATI and commenced as an International Board member which has resulted in his election as President at the 2023 IAATI conference in Hawaii.

Nathan leads a very busy life. In addition to his role as IAATI President and his full time position with Chesapeake Police, he also serves as the editor of IAATI's APB and Vehicle Crimes Today publications, has led the redevelopment of IAATI's new website, and in February this year commenced a two year term as President of the International Association of Marine Investigators (IAMI). All this while maintaining a strong family life with his wife, Jessica, and his two daughters and one son.

Iain McKinlay,
McKinlay - Davis Consultants Ltd

Iain is former Police Officer with an extensive background in stolen vehicle examinations. He is the Chair of the UK based NASVE (National Association of Stolen Vehicle Examiners), whose mission goal is to promote best practice amongst Stolen Vehicle Examiners, support their development and skills and guide, support and help train newly certified examiners to expected industry standards.

He has been a Board Member of the UK Branch of IAATI since 2017 (currently Branch Treasurer) and served on the International Board of IAATI since 2019 (currently a Director).

Iain joined the Strathclyde Police in 1993 and after six years in various roles, became a Stolen Vehicle Examiner. In 2013, he was appointed Force Stolen Vehicle Examiner for Police Scotland where he was responsible Force-wide for the examination and identification of stolen, suspect stolen vehicles and the traceability of component parts back to original vehicles proving provenance, and the preparation of reports containing evidentiary material to support the prosecution of offenders by the COPFS. He also provided teaching inputs on vehicle crime at the Scottish Police College and other locations. He has written and developed bespoke training materials on the subject and is the co-author of the current College of Policing National Policing Curriculum Learning Standard on Stolen Vehicle Examination.

Iain sits on various groups within the NPCC National Vehicle Crime Working Group, including Force Leads Meetings, Horizons Scanning Group, and as the Chair for the National Association of Stolen Vehicle Examiners reporting to the UK Crime Taskforce. In September 2022 he retired from Police Scotland and established McKinlay - Davis Consultants Ltd , a specialist vehicle examination and training service.
